CRIMINAL MATTERS.

Murder, Robbery and Suicide Occur With Alarming Frequency—Jealousy and Greed the Cause.

PATTERSON, N. J., Sept. 28.—Frederick Mellenburg murdered his wife and wounded his daughter, in this city, yesterday and then committed suicide. A week ago Antonio Mellenberg, aged thirty-two, sued his father, Frederick, for money expended upon repairs of the parents' house and recovered $75 judgement. This the father failed to pay, deeding the house to his wife. Since then there has been continuous fighting, between the parents and their daughter, Lena Rosselle. When the latter visited her mother yesterday afternoon Mellenburg entered the room and said to his daughter: "What will the court do with me?" "You will be sold out," replied the daughter. This enraged Mellenburg, who pulling a pistol, shot his daughter. He then shot his wife through the head and turned the weapon upon himself, firing a bullet into his left temple. With the blood streaming from the wound he ran out of the house and down the steps, falling dead at the foot of the steps. Mrs. Mellenburg staggered after him, falling over his corpse. The daughter will recover Mrs Roselle's son, Frederick, who is fifteen years old, told the police that he saw his uncle Antonio give his grandfather a pistol, telling him at the same time to use it if he had to. Antonio will be arrested. The boy identified the pistol. Seventeen years ago the elder Mellenburg was sent to state's prison for trying to burn his home. Five years later he tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat. He was seventy-four years old and his wife was seventy-six.

Alman drew his penknife, stabbing him about the neck and killing him.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 28.—Judge Woods, aged sixty-seven, shot his son-in-law, George Herritage, yesterday afternoon and, thinking him dead, blew his own brains out. He recovered, however, as did his wife. Heritage was not dangerously wounded.

The Normannia laid in the lower bay until the afternoon of September 20, when she and the Moravia were allowed to go to upper quarantine. LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 28.—J. F. Tennyson, who was until recently manager of the Lynchburg opera house, accompanied by E. B. Emerson, secured a sail boat yesterday afternoon and went duck shooting on the James river. On their return home, about 5 o'clock, Tennyson shot at a stump on the opposite side of the bank, and his gun being heavily loaded, the force of the discharge made him lose his balance, throwing him into the water and causing the boat to upset. Mr. Emerson, being the best swimmer, succeeded in getting Mr. Tennyson on one end of the boat and then started for the shore, swimming and pushing the boat at the same time. He had gone but a short distance when he was horrified to hear Tennyson say, "Good bye, Ed," and then sink. The body was found in about an hour and after the coroner viewed the remains he decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Tennyson leaves a widow and two children.

GILMORE AT REST.

The Ceremonies Attending the Funeral Were of the Most Impressive Character.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The obsequies of Band Master Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore were held this morning and were of the most impressive charatter. As early as 8 o'clock the house of the late musician, on West Eighty-sixth street, was crowded with sorrowing friends anxious to have a last look at the face of the popular band leader. The casket, which was covered with black cloth, was literally smothered with flowers. It was not opened, however, and those who had called to take a last look on the dead were disappointed. At the hour appointed for the funeral cortege to move, the streets in the vicinity of the residence were densly packed with people and those who were to act as an escort from the Gilmore residence to the church. No ceremony was held at the home of the late musician and a few minutes after 9 o'clock the casket was borne from the house.

The remains were followed by the widow, the daughter, Miss Minnie Gilmore, and a number of relatives and friends of the deceased. There was a roll of muffled drums and many heads were uncovered as the sad cortege moved away to the strains of the "Dead March in Saul." The pall bearers were composed of general commissioned officers of the Twenty-second regiment. The cortege was headed by a platoon of twenty policemen, under Inspector McEvoy. Then came a band playing a dead march, a firing squad of sixteen members of the Twenty-second regiment in uniform, the pall bearers, Press club and other organizations, including the non-commissioned officers of the Twenty-second regiment in uniform, and a large line of carriages. Three open carrieges bore a mass of floral designs, among them a maltese cross bearing the motto of the Twenty-second regiment, and a fac simile of Mr. Gilmore's conducting stand, six feet high.

Another piece was a great lyre, fully ten feet. It was from the members of the Mutual Musical Protective union. A dove holding a broken baton surmounted the whole, and one of the strings, broken, dangled from its fastening. There was a pillow bearing the word "Rest," from the Press club. Other floral offerings were from the National League of Musicians, the Catholic club, the Lotus club, the Parliamentary club. As the cortege moved along the thousands of spectators, who had gathered in the vicinity, moved with it, many following along the entire distance to St. Xavier's church, on West Sixteenth street.

The line of march was down the boulevard to Fifth-eighth street, to Fifth avenue to Sixteenth street, to St. Francis Xavier church. Father Dewey celebrated solemn requiem mass, assisted by Father Van Rensselaer, deacon, and Father Collins, sub-deacon. Father Purdue delivered the eulogy. A great throng crowded the church and the street in its vicinity. After the services the procession re-formed and marched up Fifth avenue, to Twenty-second street, to First avenue to Twenty-third street, where it disbanded. Only the close friends and the special military detail went on to the cemetery. In deference to Mrs. Gilmore's wishes, there were no uniformed organizations in the line except the special detail. All members of the various bodies were in civilians' dress.

The body was taken direct to Calvary cemetery, where three volleys were fired over it before it was placed in the receiving vault, where it will remain until a suitable place for its interment can be found.

Throat and Eye Troubles Interfere With His Engagements—Silly Rumors Denied.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—There are widespread rumors that Bourke Cockran's action in cancelling all his engagements in the near future to make speeches for Cleveland and Stevenson was outward evidence that Tammany Hall had grown luke warm in its support of the ticket. These reports, coupled with the hostile attitude of Generals D. E. Sickles and H. W. Slocum toward Cleveland at the Grand Army encampment in Washington, made the managers of the national campaign feel uneasy. Mr. Cockran went to National headquarters to make a statement about himself. He wore goggles and dictated the following: "I have just come from my doctor's. My throat and eyes are in a very bad condition and he has told me that I must give up speaking for a week or more." Then Mr. Cockran went away.

The case is one which attracted widespread attention in this city, on account of the prominence of the parties.

The plaintiff is a real estate dealer and has been a member of the common council of this city for a number of years.

The defendant is the well-known and wealthy pork packer, whose extensive establishment is located on West Main street.

The case was originally brought in the superior court of this city, but was taken by change of venue to Columbia City. The attorneys for the plaintiff were: Henry Colerick and J. M. Barrett, of this city, and Marshall and McNagny, of Columbia City. Judge Robert Lowry, Harry Hanna and the Leonard Brothers, of this city, represented the defendant.

The suit was bitterly contested from the start and both sides sought to gain a victory. The testimony was finished Monday. Yesterday the arguments were heard and late last night the jury returned a sealed verdict.

It was opened in court this morning by Judge Adair, who presided during the trial, and was found in favor of the plaintiff, giving him a judgment of $340 against the defendant.

It is said Mr. Eckart will appeal the case.

The costs of the suit have been very large and will probably be five or six times as large as the judgment.

MAYSVILLE ENTERPRISE.

The Citizens Will Hold a Mass Meeting Tomorrow Evening to Discuss a Proposed Electric Road.

Druggist C. B. Woodworth is in receipt of a letter from Horace E. Adams, of Maysville, in which the writer states that a meeting of the citizen of that place and vicinity has been called to discuss the proposition to build an electric railway between that village and Fort Wayne. The meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows' hall tomorrow evening, and the Maysville people, Mr. Adams says, would be pleased to have as many of our citizens present as possible. THE SENTINEL had something to say about this project some days ago, and it appears that the article published in these columns has stirred the people living along the proposed line up to a full realization of the advantages such a road would be to them. At least they are now anxious to see the scheme come to a happy consummation and will do all in their power to aid. Charles Siegmund, of 106 East Berry street, has taken an active part in aggitating the question and has succeeded in interesting a Chicago capitalist, who promises to build and equip the line if the people interested can offer sufficient inducement. The Maysville people would like to have some of our electricians attend the meeting tomorrow evening. Mr. Adams believes that sufficient stock to build the road can be disposed of and says that it is only a matter of time when the road will be constructed.

SINGER WORKS DAMAGED.

Fire Breaks Out in the Cabinet Department, Causing Heavy Loss.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 28.—A portion of the large works of the Singer Manufacturing company at Elizabethport were destroyed by fire this morning. Three locomotives and a number of freight and coal cars were also burned. The total loss will be over $150,000. No insurance. Several hundred employes are thrown out of employment.

Will Reduce the Wages.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The mine owners of South Scotland have decided to reduce the wages of miners sixpence a day from October 6.

Just after noon today while the twelve year old daughter of John Broom, of Gay street, was carrying some dishes she fell and broke some of them. One of the pieces struck her on the right arm severing the radial artery and producing a severe though not dangerous wound. Dr. A. J. Kesler dressed the injury.

Mrs. Hoover and son Don, who have been visiting Mrs. H. H. Barcus, will visit in Chicago before returning to their home in Denver.

ACTIVE WORK.

Great Preparations for the Coming Winter Among the Lutherans of the City of Fort Wayne.

It is a fact well known to the people of Fort Wayne that among the German Protestant churches of this city the Lutherans take the lead. In 1839, when Fort Wayne was only a small village, they established St. Paul's congregation. In the course of time they increased in numbers to such an extent that two other congregations, Emanuel's and Zion's, grew out of it. At the present time these congregations possess three large and splendid church edifices and have a membership of over 1,300 families. The names of their former pastors, Sibler, Stubnotzy, need only be mentioned to show the widespread influence, exerted by these divines over the Lutherans, of Fort Wayne.

In the midst of these congregations so far the German language has been used exclusively both in public services and other meetings, it being their mother tongue, and as long as they exist, the German language will be used hereafter.

But of late it occurred very often that the young people, born and educated in this country, made acquaintances and formed connections with young people of American descent. Consequently applications for admittance into membership of the German congregations were frequently made by those who could understand and speak the English language only. This circumstance made it the solemn duty of the pastors who now have charge of these congregations, to use the English language, in order to instruct these new applicants in the Lutheran faith and doctrine, and become their spiritual advisors whenever official functions had to be performed in their families. The congregations at the same time began to feel a certain kind of responsibility towards these English Lutherans in their own midst, who could not enjoy the same privileges on account of the difference of languages, and this feeling of responsibility fostered the idea of beginning an English mission.

In order to provide for them, regular services conducted in the English language and at the same time to give our English speaking fellow citizens a chance to become acquainted with the characteristic proprieties of the genuine old Lutheran creed and doctrine, the resolution was passed to begin at once English mission work by holding services every Sunday night alternately in St. Paul's and Emanuel's German Lutheran churches.

At this stage of the proceedings we were fortunate enough to get into possession of the Plymouth church edifice, corner West Washington and Fulton streets, which will be vacated by Rev. Ainsley's congregation as soon as their new church is finished. This church was bought without hesitation and from next Sunday, Oct. 2, English Lutheran services will be held therein over Sunday night, at 7:30 o'clock, until May 1, 1893, when we will occupy the same Sunday morning also. All those who have a desire to attend English Lutheran service are cordially invited to and welcomed at Plymouth church, corner Fulton and West Washington streets.

This mission work will be carried on and supported by the three German Lutheran congregations belonging to the Missouri synod, and sermons will be delivered by Rev. Albrecht, of Emanuel's, Rev. Lindemann, of St. Paul's church, and Professors Crull, Bishoff and Bayler, of Concordia college. But our aim is to organize a congregation as soon as circumstances will allow and to call a minister who will spend his whole time in the interest of the new congregation.

C. GROSS,
Pastor of Emanuel's church.

SCRATCHED 3 YEARS

Suffered, Scratched, and Bled. Doctors No Relief. Cured by Two Sets Cuticura Remedies.

I wish to express my thanks for the benefit I have derived from using CUTICURA REMEDIES. Nothing like them was ever manufactured. For three years have I suffered with a sore head. I would break out all over my head with pimples which would form a watery matter, and I would have to scratch until I would bleed. After doctoring with two doctors for three years, more or less, I finally made up my mind to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES with result entirely satisfactory to me. After using two sets of CUTICURA REMEDIES, I am entirely cured. I have recommended your remedies to several persons, and they all tell me they are No. 1. Our druggist is doing a nice business in CUTICURA REMEDIES, since my cure. I have given him the privilege of using my name as proof of their efficiency. I enclose my portrait.

A. F. GRAMM, Photographer, Mt. Horeb, Wis.

My wife has been troubled with the salt rheum for four years. During this time doctors of Wisconsin, Illinois, and the most eminent doctors of Chicago, failed to give relief. I bought the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and she used only one box of CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP, and half a bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and these have cured my wife completely.

It is one of the largest of Protestant denominations, standing third in size in the United States.

THE amount of information that has been "diffused" in regard to the peculiar characteristics of the cholera germs is not only large, but confusing. These germs may be carried about in the wearing apparel, and yet not affect the wearer, but jump onto an innocent bystander. CHIEF ARTHUR, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in a recent address at Altoona, laid down the true principle upon which labor organizations should be founded and which his own organization, in an experience of twenty-eight years, has demonstrated to be eminently sound. "Come, let us reason together," and "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" are the two Biblical maxims to the observance of which Chief Arthur attributes the prosperity of the brotherhood and the fact that it has been able to improve the condition of its members and their families, the railways they serve and the communities in which they dwell.

THE National Real Estate Association of America, which will hold its second annual congress in the city of Buffalo from October 4 to 7 inclusive, is purely national in its character, and is not controlled by real estate men of any section, and the usefulness of such a body cannot be over estimated. Depew, upon "Rapid Transit and Suburban Real Estate," and addresses of equal importance and interest will be made by ex-Governor Hubbard, of Texas, and the Hon. J. Craddock Simpson, of Montreal; Hon. "Although I was a Hill man at the Chicago convention," said he to a Chicago Post man, "I now believe that Cleveland will get a much larger vote than Hill would have had were he the nominee. Mr. Cleveland will carry New York without a doubt. I say this because I have been among the mugwumps, the independents and the straightout Tammany and Hill democrats of New York for the last ten days, and I know there is a unity of purpose among them to elect Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Hill himself is now an out and out champion of the ticket. I know he is sincere, because he told me the other day that it was the duty of every democrat to work ceaselessly for democratic success. I know that Hill is sincere in his avowals of loyalty and his stirring speeches have done more to unify and strengthen the democracy in New York state than anything else."

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Your special committee, to whom was referred the report of the street committee regarding the proposed widening of East Lewis street beg leave to report that after a thorough examination, we are of the opinion that it would be advisable to widen the street so as to make it of uniform width (60 feet) and it is our opinion that the damages will not be very great; and it certainly would add largely to the appearance of the same. We have instructed the city civil engineer to make a profile showing the proposed space to be appropriated.

We therefore recommend that the proper resolution be introduced to make said street of uniform width.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

We, your committee on streets, city civil engineer and city attorney, to whom was referred the report of city civil engineer relating to the proposed estimates in favor of Joseph Derheimer for grading and paving with brick the sidewalks on the west side of Clinton street, from Superior street to the St. Marys river, report that they have carefully examined said estimate; that the only objection offered to said estimate was by the estate of Francis Didier, to the effect that the grade along the line of its said property necessary for such side walk had already been constructed, for which the estate asked credit.

The committee states that the filling the line of that street has been made during the past ten years and the grade made by sections; the committee has no word of the contractor as to what grade he made, hence they report adverse to objections; that we met at the time and place of which due notice had been given that we find said estimates just, true and legal and we herewith report resolutions declaring the same a lien upon the lots and lands therein named and we recommend the passage thereof.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Your special committee that was appointed to hear objections to the necessity of the construction of what is commonly known as the Seventh, Tenth and Eight ward sewer, commencing on the corner of Lafayette and Pontiac streets, and emptying into the Glasgow avenue sewer, upon the route set forth in the three resolutions passed by the common council report that they met at the time and place as notices required, for the purpose of hearing any and all objections to the necessity of the construction of said sewer, as required by the said resolutions; that there appeared before us a remonstrance signed by thirty-nine property owners that would be effected by the construction of the said sewer and objected, not to the necessity of sewerage of some kind, but more particularly to the route laid out by the engineer for such sewer, contending that there is a natural water course that the said sewer could follow, that would be more practical and desirable than the one set out in the said resolution, also the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad objected to the said route for the same reason. The committee states that it has given the matter its most careful consideration and believe that the objections set forth by said remonstrances are not tenable. To follow the line proposed by them would necessitate the leaving in many places the public streets and alleys and require condemnation for private property as well as to go out side the city limits. To do this would make the sewerage more difficult and expensive as it would require the condemnation of private property in many instances. In order to reach the main sewer with lateral sewers. This it deems impracticable and expensive. We believe the route set forth in the resolutions passed by the common council to be the most practical and the most advantageous to all concerned and here recommend that the sewer be constructed upon the route in the manner provided in the said resolutions.

THOS. D. DEVILBISS,

REPORT OF CITY CLERK.

I would respectfully report that in compliance with resolution introduced by Councilman Pettit and adopted by your honorable body last meeting instructing me to have recorded a resolution annexing the following territory within the city limits, towit: commencing at Allen street, to Hoagland avenue, thence to Killea street, thence to city limits, I have done so, and herewith present bill of county Recorder Sickel amounting to $1.25, which I recommend the payment of.

RUDY C. REINEWALD, city clerk.

Concurred in, and clerk instructed to issue order.

REPORT OF CITY TREASURER.

I respectfully report that I have delivered to Seasongood & Meyer the $24,000 worth of bonds recently issued, and received the amount of their bid in return. I have placed the $24,000 to the credit of the sinking fund, and the $542 premium into the general fund.

C. J. SONNTAG, city treasurer.

Referred to committee on finance.

REPORT OF CITY ATTORNEY.

My attention has been called by the Hon. J. K. Edgerton, sec. of the street committee's report of 1892, in relation to the widening of Walton avenue, between the Wabash and Pittsburg railroads. In said report they recommend the same be widened, but do not indicate whether the additional width should be made on the east or west side.

It is insisted on the part of Mr. Edgerton that said addition should be made on the west side of the avenue, for the reason he contends that he has already given five feet more ground than his original plat required. That the matter may be fully investigated I suggest that Walton avenue, between the points herein named, is the city limits and that the city would have no jurisdiction to go farther east without extending its limits. I am informed that the railroad companies and two other parties are the owners of all the property that will be affected by the extension if made, and that they express a willingness to have it done. I recommend that this matter be referred to the street committee and city attorney, with instructions to report upon the expediency of making such extension of the city limits for the purposes herein set out if the property owners consent to the same.

W. H. SHAMBAUGH city attorney.

Referred to committee on streets, attorney and city engineer.

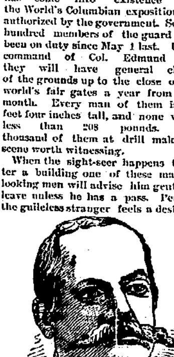
COLUMBIAN GUARDS.

A NEW NATIONAL ORGANIZATION AT CHICAGO.

It Will Be the Most Picturesque in the History of Military Movements and Will Have Charge of the World's Fair Grounds.

CHICAGO, SEPT. 9.—One of the features of the world's fair that will strike visitors, the ladies especially, is the sight of men dressed in neat soldierly uniform resembling that worn by light infantry companies. There is plenty of him, too; enough to go around. He is a member of the Columbian guard, a military organization that has come into existence since the World's Columbian exposition was authorized by the government. Several hundred members of the guard have been on duty since May 1 last. Under command of Col. Edmund Rice they will have general charge of the grounds up to the close of the world's fair gates a year from next month. Every man of them is six feet four inches tall, and none weigh less than 208 pounds. One thousand of them at drill makes a scene worth witnessing.

When the sight-seer happens to enter a building one of these martial-looking men will advise him gently to leave unless he has a pass. Perhaps the guileless stranger feels a desire to smoke and proceeds to gratify it. The chances are against his getting so much as a single whiff of the cigar he is lighting before a blue-coated guardian yells at him to stop it. But if the wanderer around the ground really thinks he has a right to smoke there and persists in arguing about it, the gentle blue-coat becomes a veritable Cerberus. There is no arguing with him on that point unless the debater is fond of riding in patrol wagons and paying fines.



COL. EDMUND RICE.

These bluecoats are no ordinary policemen. They regard a city keeper of the peace with the same fine scorn that marks the cook's opinion of the scrub women. The Exposition bluecoat is a Columbian guard—no less—and he composes himself with the dignity his title demands. Col. Edmund Rice of Gen. Miles' staff, a regular army officer of distinction, is responsible for the pride the Columbian guards take in their work. Col. Rice is commander of the guards and has organized them on an army basis. Some five hundred men are in his command, divided into companies distinguished by letters, and officered with captains, lieutenants, sergeants and corporals. When the exposition opens the command will have thousands where it now has hundreds and will present the discipline of an army by no means small as compared with Uncle Sam's full force of regulars.

The work of the Exposition guards is as responsible and much more tiresome than protecting a beat on the lake front. Millions of dollars' worth of property depend for its safety on the vigilance of Col. Rice's men. A fire in one of the big buildings might menace the whole group of exposition structures; a riot on the grounds where over 8,000 workmen are employed would mean untold injury to the fair if it were not quelled immediately. These possibilities make the commander's post one of the gravest responsibility and have led to the most perfect organization possible.

The guards are detailed in companies on watches of six hours each. "We have a six-hour system," explained Col. Rice, "so the men off duty will not be tempted to leave the grounds. I have learned by experience in the army that men with long hours of leisure are apt to lose interest in their work. With six hours' work and six hours' leisure, alternately, the guards have ample time for recreation and yet have scarcely time enough to go to town on a 'lark' and get demoralized.

ON GUARD AT THE GROUNDS.

"When a company is on duty the men are scattered about through the various buildings and on posts about the grounds. Inspectors make the rounds at irregular hours and make a report with me showing where every man of the command has been stationed and what is his duty. Other inspectors are also detailed to make cross-reports as a check on each other, so that when I examine the reports in the morning I can compare all the reports and see whether they agree. Then I make the rounds myself at irregular and unexpected intervals to keep the inspectors and guards on the alert.

"Every company has drills in infantry tactics to teach the men precision, give them a good bearing and make them available as a mass in case of an emergency. Every company is drilled constantly with the fire apparatus and is able to co-operate with the regular fire department at the grounds in case of need."

To illustrate the workings of his system, Col. Rice turned to a bundle of reports from inspectors. "You see by this," he continued, referring to a report, "that Company A practiced infantry drill in the mining building at 1 o'clock this morning. Rather an odd time for drill, wasn't it? Well, they may be called on to do worse than drill at that hour some night, and I want them to be ready for it if it comes.

"Here is a report that shows every man but one of Company B was on guard between 12 and 6 o'clock. The one missing man was sick, as you see by the report. Just to be sure the report is all right I have another inspector's sheet here, tallying with the first, and bearing a note: 'Met Inspector Smith at the fisheries building at 1:45 a. m.' That shows the two inspectors were watching each other, for neither of them knew the other was there."

HIS FIRST DAY ON DUTY.

It is estimated that at least 11,000 guards, all with the same height, weight and uniform, will be on duty after May 1 next.

PAINTING THE TOWN RED.

The Origin of This Famous and Festive Phrase.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Hugh Slicer, of the old banking firm of Greathouse & Slicer, told me that the laconic term, "painting the town red," grew out of a little argument between Jakey Williams and a miner named Rogers, which took place on a snowbank before the door of the Fashion saloon in the spring of 1855. Certainly the town was painted red, and remained till the late spring carried away the bloody snow. If ever a "brother's blood "called from the grave" the blood of that poor miner did. But he should have left the withered Mexican woman alone and stuck to his mining claim, ten miles away. And so the miners did nothing.

Rogers fell a victim to what the boys used jocosely to call the "fatal five-shooter." There was but one weapon in all the Sierras as fatal—to the man who used it—as the five-shooter, and that was the Allan "pepper-box." The row between Rogers and red-headed Williams began in the Fashion, Williams following up with a knife and Rogers firing his little six-shooter as he retreated into the street and up the snowbank. Here he fell dead, cut all to pieces, but not till he had landed every bullet in his enemy's breast.

Williams got well, and was, of course, a "hero." He had killed his man in a hand-to-hand fight, and was drunk with his importance. He did not long keep quiet. But his record is a low, cruel one. He was in at the death of the famous Cherokee Bob and his friends, in Florence, Idaho, in 1862, and was finally knifed to the heart by a Mexican while United States Marshal of Idaho. But the blood and the snow in Yreka! It spread and spread and spread. They poured hot water on it from the saloon, but that only made it spread the more. The snow at length fell so deep that the open street became impassible, and men kept along the sidewalks. But the blood came right up through it, and spread and spread and spread, till, as Hugh Slicer said, it "painted the town red."

A Cheap Idea.

The British naval authorities are saving money in a novel way in connection with big gun practice. The Benbow has been practicing a good deal with her 110-ton guns, and, as this gun throws a projectile weighing 1,800 pounds, the expense of each shot runs pretty high. So tubes have been placed in the bores of the big guns which fit a musket cartridge, and, while the big guns are themselves handled and aimed, all that is fired is a musket bullet. Some excellent hits have been made in this practice.

The producing power of the banana is forty-four times as great as that of the potato. The dried fruit is readily converted into nutritious flour; it may be also manufactured into sausages; beer can be made from it; while the skin can be turned into cloth, and the juice made to do service either as ink or vinegar.

Saved His Child's Life.

J. N. Dilferbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, "from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours." It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by druggists.

QUEER MONTANA MINES.

A Vinegar Mine That Is Nothing to the Alum Mine.

Recent reference to the natural wonders of Montana, particularly the chicken broth and bichloride springs, brings to light others of equal magnitude, says the Omaha Bee. Colonel John Doyle's wonderful vinegar mine in Beaverhead county passes the domain of doubt into the sunlight of truth. It is backed by crisp affidavits and affidavits cost $1 cash in Montana.

The colonel and his partner did not confine themselves to vinegar. They discovered a mountain of pure alum in the Beaverhead range.

The discovery was considered a tenstrike and better than a gold mine. They kept the find a secret for several weeks, during which a shaft was sunk to the depth of 200 feet. The cut was made all the way through a solid vein of alum, and it is estimated that the whole mountain was composed of it. A large pile of the stuff was heaped near the mine ready for shipment, and the miners had a scheme to flood the market with their product and rake in $1,000,000 at one fell swoop. One Monday the colonel's partner went to town to lay in a supply of grub and the former remained to guard their treasure.

During the morning a heavy rain began to fall and continued all day, and in the afternoon the colonel had occasion to go down into the mine, making the descent by sliding down the rope, and when once down at the bottom was so taken up with a contemplation of his novel and wonderful mine that he did not heed the fleeting hours until he happened to cast his eyes upward and saw that daylight had faded from the mouth of the shaft. He started to climb upward, but had not proceeded more than half way when to his horror he discovered that the heavy fall of rain had so thoroughly saturated the alum sides of the shaft that as a natural result they had drawn together until the hole was scarcely large enough for a man to crawl through. The imprisoned man recognized his awful position, and without losing much time struggled toward the top of the shaft. Every foot he advanced the shaft became smaller, and for the last ten feet he was compelled to dig his way up with a pocket knife; and when he finally reached the surface was completely exhausted, his clothes were torn, and his body badly bruised. The rain was still falling, which soon revived the colonel, and he started toward the camp to meet his partner, to whom he related his remarkable experience. Together they returned to their mine, or at least tried to, for although they searched for two days, they were unable to find their late possessions.

The rain had undoubtedly thoroughly and tightly closed up the discovery shaft and melted away every sign of the alum piled on the outside, so that to this time it has been impossible to find any trace of the mine.

REWARD FOR A BRAVE SAILOR.

The British Government, After Long Search, Finally Locates Thomas Barr.

For months the British government, through its consuls and other representatives, has been endeavoring to locate Thomas Barr, a humble mechanic, formerly an able-bodied seaman on the British steamship Cyprus, to reward him for heroism and bravery at sea. Recently Captain Robert Clipperton, the British consul at Philadelphia, succeeded in finding Barr working at Cramps' shipyard, having tired of the sea, and his bravery will now be fittingly recognized. The Philadelphia Record says that during the terrible storm of September 30, 1891, when a violent gale of days' duration scattered the north Atlantic ocean with wrecks of many staunch and noble vessels, the Cyprus, of Newcastle on the Tyne, commanded by Captain Edward Guild, bound from Philadelphia, narrowly escaped foundering. In the midst of the roaring gale, a sinking, waterlogged and unmanageable sailing vessel was sighted laboring and straining in the trough of the sea. Immediate relief seemed out of the question, as the Cyprus herself was hove to and endeavoring to weather the gale with the seas breaking over her bulwarks with terrific force, notwithstanding the skill displayed by the officers in charge of her. A call for volunteers was made from the Cyprus' crew, and the first to respond was Barr. He was soon followed by John Hartley, Edwin Hicks and James Embley, all able-bodied seamen, and Chief Officer Sandholm ordered the small boat launched, with himself in command. The sea was running to the height of the main yard and the crests of the waves were white with foam.

By the tattered and torn code signals as they hung to what remained of the vessel's upper rigging, it was learned that the vessel was the Canadian brigantine Clara of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. The crew were tied fast in the rigging, as every lurch she made it was feared she would turn bottom up and throw all hands into the sea. Chief Officer Sandholm was soon near the vessel, but too close means destruction of the small boat and death to all. Orders were given for the men to jump overboard on the lee side of the ship. They obeyed, and as they came up were grabbed by Barr and others and taken on the Cyprus, nearly famished and half dead from exposure.

The Canadian government has forwarded to the British board of trade substantial rewards for the crew that made the rescue, together with Captain Guild, who successfully managed his vessel in one of the wildest storms that ever swept the Atlantic and saved every soul on the Clara. A bill of exchange for several pounds sterling will be given, Barr, besides a testimonial from the Canadian government for bravery.

A Traveling Man's Experience With Diarrhoea.

I am a traveling man and have been afflicted with what is called chronic diarrhœa for some ten years. Last fall I was in western Pennsylvania, and accidentally was introduced to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. I ventured to make a trial and was wonderfully relieved. I would like now to introduce it among my friends. H. M. LEWIS, 24 Freeman street, Cleveland, Ohio. For sale by druggists.

COCK OF THE FLAGSHIP.

The Rooster Whom the Officers Hadn't the Heart to See Eaten.

On the flagship Chicago there is a rooster which has been on board for some time, during which time he has delighted the crew and won his laurels on several fields, says the Boston Herald. He was bought at Barbadoes on the squadron's way south last winter, and was intended to be served for Christmas, but during bad weather he crowed so lustily and seemed such an undaunted rooster that one of the officers interceded for him and his life was spared. On the quarter deck are several big ventilators, which are partly covered with polished brass, making reflectors. Dick, for so the rooster was named, soon passed these ventilators and saw his reflection. His first air of startled surprise was met by the other rooster with one which entirely equalled it, and upon this Dick ruffled his feathers and looked threatening, only to be met by one quite as defiant. This was more than he could stand, and after prancing around a little he advanced to the attack, being promptly met by the other rooster. Then ensued a very comical encounter, for Dick struck at this ventilator with bill and spur, getting more and more mad every minute and furnishing side-splitting amusement to officers and men, who were interested spectators, until finally, from sheer exhaustion, he was obliged to give up the fight and retire, having only the satisfaction of finding that the other rooster retired likewise. This curious delusion lasted several weeks, and it became a common thing to see Dick either sullenly glaring at that other one, or actively engaged in trying to damage him. The crew are very fond of him, and when they went ashore for target practice on an island Dick was allowed to run on shore. At Ensenada, Argentine Republic, the ship lay alongside the stone docks of the Grand canal and Dick was soon ashore over the gangplank. He was calmly picking up things when a dog came along to whom he promptly gave battle. He fought him in the advance and retreat style, for they did each other no damage and confined themselves to short dashes, barks and threats from the dog and determined striking and spurring on the part of the rooster. Dick several times had these fights and at one time held three dogs at bay. He is most pugnacious, and attacks the ship's cats, and even a goat which was brought on board at St. Thomas.

The Kind of Soup It Was.

Three different waiters at a Southern hotel asked a little, prim, precise Harvard professor at dinner, in quick succession, if he would have soup. A little annoyed, he said to the last waiter who asked:

"Is it compulsory?"

"No sah," answered our friend and brother, "no, sah, I think it am mock-turtle."—Texas Siftings.

What to Do With a Mad Dog.

By thrift he had become a millionaire, and he had a splendid St. Bernard dog which he was very proud of. One day the servant came to him horror-stricken. "Master, master, Cæsar is——" "Is what?" "Mad! He won't touch water and he has all the symptoms of going mad." "Great heavens! It is lucky you discovered it in time. You must not lose a minute. Take the animal away before he has bitten anyone——" "Yes sir." "And sell him."—Texas Siftings.

Simple Method of Removing Wrinkles.

It is easier to remove winkles than to eradicate any other defect of the face, and yet we daily see many faces, otherwise beautiful, rendered prematurely old by that shrinkage of the tissue we call wrinkles. A simple, but positive, treatment is Marquard's Rose Cream, which not only disperses wrinkles speedily but also removes pimples, blotches, eruptions, and lends an exquisite glow and transparency to the complexion. A FAMILY BLESSING FOR 25c.

Its action upon the system is unlike any other external remedy, as it never drives the disease to the Internal Organs. We warrant it to cure Old Sores, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Eczema, Sore Breasts or Nipples, Boils, Scalds, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Fistula, Piles, Corns, Bunions, Chilblains, Frosted Feet and all cutaneous diseases on man and beast.

PAGE'S CLIMAX SALVE acts like magic on horse flesh in curing Scratches, Mange, Old Sores, Fresh Cuts, Snake Bites, Bruises, Burns, Saddle and Harness Galls, Chafes, &c. It is warranted to cure in every case, or money refunded. For Sale by Druggists and Dealers in Medicine everywhere, or sent by Mail or Express, prepaid, on receipt of price.

Such is life, each changing day
Shows us ere it flits away,
Each some duty must perform,

Thus all through life some task is set,
Teaching man is not perfect yet.
Earnest to excel in his own line,

A preliminary meeting of base ball magnates will soon be held, probably in Cincinnati, to arrange a plan for making great changes in base ball. The work will be done at the big meeting in November, but at the preliminary the changes will be agreed upon. It is pretty well settled that three big changes will be made. The length of the ball season will be cut from seven to six months. The eastern clubs will each make two western trips of three games with each club and the western clubs will do the same in the east. The second change will be the discontinuation of the double championship series. It is not popular with the public, the players, or the managers, and a fight will be made to have one championship series straight through. The third proposed change is the discontinuation of "double headers," that is, playing a regular and postponed game the same afternoon.

Mrs. John W. Grey returned this noon from Anderson, Ind., where she has been visiting her husband.

Miss Francis Widdemann, of New Buffalo, Mich, is the guest of the family of Sebastian Wiegand, of 343 Lafayette street.

Mrs. Levi Kagle died at Bluffton yesterday, after suffering several months with paralysis. During the war the deceased resided in this city.

The commissioners of the fire department are staking out the site for the East Main street engine house this afternoon, and the contractors will begin work tomorrow.

The president of the B. Y. P. U. of C. E. desires to see every member of the society this evening after the regular prayer service of the church. Business of importance.

This morning Rosella, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Merz, died at the home of her parents, No. 37 Pine street, of paralysis of the heart. The funeral has not yet been announced.

This morning the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, of 31 Gay street, fell with a hand full of dishes at her home, a fragment of the broken earthenware entering her right arm and severing the artery. Dr. Kesler was summoned and dressed the wound, which was found to be a bad one.

The remains of the late Conductor Henry Harber were buried this morning, the funeral services being held at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 o'clock. The funeral procession was headed by the City band. Following came the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, fifty in number, and each member wore the regalia of the order. Then came the hearse and a long line of cabs and buggies.

John J. Forsyth favored THE SENTINEL with his presence a few moments this morning. Mr. Forsyth is the agent for the Haverly Minstrel company, whose magnificent array of minstrel talent will appear at the Temple tomorrow evening. Haverly's minstrels have just returned from the Pacific coast, where they were greeted nightly by immense audiences. They expectd to make a tour of the western provinces of Canada, but the prevalence of small pox at Vancouvre and other places down on their route, compelled them to cancel those engagements. Hence their early return to this "neck o' the woods." The company is stronger than ever, including in its roll of artists such well known fun makers as Billy Rice, E. M. Hall, E. M. Kayne, Bogert and O'Brien, Delmore and Wilson, Charles Sully, A. M. Thatcher, Arthur Yule, George Evans, Harry Constantine and thirty others of national reputation.

JAHU D'WITT MILLER.

His Lecture at the City Y. M. C. A. Last Night.

Rev. Jahu DeWitt Miller, who lectured at the City Y. M. C. A. last night on "Our Country's Possibilities and Perils," was greeted with a large audience, almost every seat in the auditorium being occupied.

His lecture was instructive, witty and entertaining and abounded with brilliant eloquence that kept the audience attentive listeners in their seats during the time of its delivery. He reviewed at length the possibilities and perils of our nation and wove into his oration many interesting thoughts.

He is one of the best of platform speakers and should he return here would be given another large audience.

WEDDED AT ST. PAUL.

Percy Tyler Married at That City to Miss Mabel Fernwalt.

The Dispatch, of St. Paul, Minn., gives the following account of the marriage of Mr. Percy Tyler, who is well known in this city: "One of the happiest weddings during the past week was the marriage of Miss Mabel Fernwalt to Mr. Percy Tyler, of Fort Wayne, Ind., which was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, 596 Fuller street, last Wednesday evening. It was a quiet, home affair, only the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. Dr. Haupt, pastor of the English Lutheran church, officiated. Miss Lillian Farras acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Harry Fernwalt as the best man, while Misses Norma Fernwalt and Esther Smith acted as maids of honor. Their many friends sent kind greetings, and the presents received were many and valuable."

M. FRANK & CO.

THE CENTLIVRES.

A Number of Friends Give Them a Surprise.

The spacious and hospitable home of C. L. Centlivre was the scene of a jolly stag party last evening, the occasion being the celebration of the birthday of that gentleman, as well as that of his son, Louis A. Centlivre. The guests arrived in two parties, one party aiming to surprise the old and the other the young gentleman. Neither party knew of the others existence until they met at the Centlivre residence, where an explanation occurred. The guests presented their hosts with several appropriate gifts, among them being a handsomely carved chair and a dresser. During the evening the office force of the brewery called at the Centlivre mansion and presented the senior member of the family with a valuable cane and the junior member a silk umbrella. Ed Franks, the cashier, made the presentation speech. The Tad Pole club composed one of the surprising parties, while the other party included a number of our older citizens who have known C. L. Centlivre for the past thirty years.
